The election of Col. Cary A. Hardee, president of the First National bank of Live Oak, to the position of president of the Florida Bankers' Association, at the late meeting of that body in this city, was an honor most worthily bestowed. Col. Hardee is yet a young man, but by sheer merit he has won his way to the front in both law and banking, and to his professional and business success he adds moral worth and personal and social traits which make him one among our foremost and most useful citizens.

A REAL ISSUE.

Bro. Caldwell, of the Jasper News, has made a discovery of real value in the well-prospected field of r'lorida politics, and we hasten to give him credit for it and lay it before our readers. He has discovered an issue, a real issue worth fighting over, to put into our next primary for the congressional nomination in this district—an issue above the mere choice of a candidate on his personal popularity, and which involves the discussion and settlement of a great practical question vitally affecting the material interests of every man, woman and child in the Second congressional district. This issue is already pressing the democratic party all over the South, and it might as well be That heary old despot, the Sultan of settled without any attempt at evasion.
